ct listing below contains: Product Name (English + Hindi), Description, Price, Badge, and WhatsApp order text.

oduct (EN + HI)	Product Description	MRP	Sell
n ka Achar आम अचार	The king of all achars. Raw mangoes hand-picked at peak season, mixed with cold-pressed mustard oil and hand-pounded spices the Bihari way. No preservatives. No shortcuts. Just the real thing.	₹1,000	₹900

n ka Kuccha का कुचा	Tangy, raw, rustic. This is the achar that Bihar village households made before it had a fancy name. Coarsely ground raw mango with a bold spice hit. Pairs beautifully with dal-chawal.	₹1,000	₹900
hal ka Achar ल का अचार	Jackfruit pickle — a Bihar speciality that most aunties stopped making. Anju ji hasn't. Meaty jackfruit pieces in a slow-infused spice and mustard oil base. Rare. Seasonal. Worth it.	₹1,000	₹900
ra ka Achar ा का अचार	Hog plum pickle. If you're from Bihar or Bengal and you know amra — this needs no explanation. If you don't know it yet, this will be your new obsession. Tangy, sharp, unforgettable.	₹1,000	₹900
oti Hari Mirchi Achar छोटी हरी का अचार	Tiny green chillies, whole, packed in spiced mustard oil. The kind of achar that makes every meal more alive. For those who like their food to wake them up.	₹1,000	₹900
i Mirchi Bharua ar हरी मिर्च भरुआ र	Green chillies stuffed with a hand-ground masala filling. A labour of love — each chilli filled individually. One bite and you'll understand why this one takes time.	₹1,000	₹900
Mirchi Bharua ar लाल मिर्च ा अचार	The red version of the bharua — dried red chillies stuffed with a warming spice mix. Bold, deep, smoky. A Bihar kitchen classic that your grandmother probably made and never wrote down.	₹1,000	₹900
bu ka Achar का अचार	Sun-cured lemon pickle. The kind that takes patience — lemons that have sat in salt and spices until they've softened into something completely different. Simple ingredients, complex result.	₹1,000	₹900
ak Lehsun ka ar अदरक लहसुन चार	Ginger and garlic pickle — the one that doubles as a digestive and a flavour bomb. Pairs with everything. Most people who try this make it a permanent part of their pantry.	₹1,000	₹900 ra Bhunja Mix भुंजा मिक्स	Roasted flattened rice with peanuts, spices and a gentle crunch. The original Bihar snack. The one you eat sitting on a charpai watching the evening go by. Addictive. Honest. Ours.	₹1,000	₹900
la पेड़ा	Soft milk solids slow-cooked to a melt-in-mouth sweetness. Anju ji's pedas are made with full-fat milk reduced the traditional way — no powder, no shortcut. A small joy in every bite.	₹1,000	₹900

ki निमकी	The flaky, crispy, salted biscuit of Bihar. The one that goes with every cup of tea and every conversation. Light. Addictive. Made with just flour, salt, ajwain, and years of practice.	₹1,000	₹900
sta Khabouni ा खबौनी	The crispy, layered Bihari snack that most people outside Bihar have never tasted but instantly love. Khasta means flaky. Khabouni means it's serious business. Try it once and reorder forever.	₹1,000	₹900
% Atta Gur bouni 100% ा गुड़ खबौनी	Whole wheat and jaggery — no refined flour, no sugar. The healthier khabouni for those who want the tradition without the guilt. Anju ji's answer to clean eating, Bihar style.	₹1,000	₹900

Title + Opening Line — Copy Paste
The Girl Who Never Waited to Grow Up In a small village in Bihar, in a household where money was always short and mouths were many, a girl named Anju learned very early that the world would not come to her. She would have to go to it. She was ten years old when she first stood at a market stall and sold clothes to strangers.
When Life Tested Everything She Had Marriage brought Anju into a new world — a Bengali household, a different culture, a different language of life. The years that followed were not kind. Business losses. A husband's illness. Hardships that were relentless, layered, and at times, crushing. There came a moment when Anju made the most painful decision a mother can make — she sent both her sons to live with her parents in Bihar. Not because she didn't want them near. Because she wanted more for them than her circumstances could then offer.
What She Built in Them The sons she sent away with nothing but her belief came back as men she could be proud of. An engineer, MBA, government officer, businessman — now at CXO level of a startup. A banking professional. A daughter who became a teacher. Three children. Three paths. One mother. One unbreakable thread.
When Fate Came Again "Upar wala sab likh ke veja hai naseeb main." When business losses and debt arrived again, Anju Choudhary stood in front of her son and said the line she has lived her whole life by. Business is not about the output you receive. It is about the input you give. Keep building. That is who we are.
Her Second Beginning At an age when the world expects women to rest, Anju Choudhary launched Choudhary Aunty — to preserve India's regional recipes, empower women to earn from their kitchen skills, and bring the taste of real homemade food to every doorstep. This is not just a food brand. It is what happens when a woman who has survived everything decides to build something for everyone. Welcome to Choudhary Aunty.
